BEAUCLERC FUNDS - Beauclerc Global Income Fund

a sub-fund of BEAUCLERC FUNDS

Class B2 EUR Shares (Distributing) - LU2274094957

Management Company: NS Partners Europe S.A.

Objectives and investment policy

Objectives

The investment objective of the sub-fund is to replicate the flagship income strategy of the investment manager, suitable for defensive investors seeking a sustained absolute-return performance.

Investment policy

The strategy is derivatives based and the performance is generated in the form of a high and recurring income flow achieved in all market conditions, through a cautious and risk-controlled investment style without duration risk and with very low sensitivity to equity markets.

The Investment Manager will implement its flagship income strategy in the sub-fund, allocating to asset classes such as rates and credit, as well as structured notes and derivatives instruments linked to the performance of equities, and currencies. Most of the income flow is achieved by selling and/or replicating the sales of geared-put options on equity indices on short-dated maturities (usually maximum 7 months) and with strikes deeply out-of-the-money (usually 80%), to provide large downside protection on the capital invested (hedge against, in general, the first 20% decline on the selected underlying).

The put options' equity underlying is usually a worst-of basket of developed-market equity indices. Worst-of baskets of single stocks with large market capitalisations, sector exchange-traded funds ("ETFs") or currencies could also be selected as underlying for diversification purpose, with maximum 10% joint allocation in the sub-fund. The sub-fund's exposure to equity risks is only obtained through structured products and derivative instruments as described above. There are no directional positions into equities, neither through direct single stocks, ETFs, mutual funds, nor futures as underlyings.

The allocation to structured products and derivatives instruments linked to equity underlying described above can be combined with a selection of direct bonds and, to a less extent, bond mutual funds. The latter could be invested in high yield issuers or issuers of emerging countries. The bond allocation might include exposure to debt instruments issued in different currencies than the sub-fund's reference currency.

Over the long term, the Investment Manager intends to implement a 90% allocation to the derivatives-related income strategy and a 10% allocation to the bond-related income strategy. Derivatives might be used at any time for hedging the risk exposure in the portfolio and also for investment purpose. Currency exposure may be actively managed.

The sub-fund and the Investment Manager do not receive rebates or commissions from third-party promoters of investments which the sub-fund may acquire.

Benchmark: The portfolio is actively managed on a discretionary basis without reference to a benchmark.

Currency: The reference currency of the sub-fund is expressed in USD. The currency of the share class is expressed in EUR. For this share class, the foreign-exchange risk of the share currency is systematically hedged against the sub-fund's reference currency.

Redemption frequency: The investor has the possibility to redeem shares on demand. The dealing in shares is carried out on each full bank business day in Luxembourg. In exceptional circumstances, the possibility to request the redemption may be limited or suspended.

Dividend income: This class is a distribution class meaning that income may be distributed.

Recommendation

This sub-fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 2 years.

Risk and reward profile

What does this synthetic risk and reward indicator mean?

The Class B2 EUR Shares (Distributing) is classified in category 3 because the value of the share may be subject to medium variations and consequently the risk of loss and the opportunity of gain may be moderate.

The risk category has been determined on the basis of simulated data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The risk and reward category shown does not necessarily remain unchanged and the categorisation of the fund may shift over time.

The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

Repayment of the initial investment is not guaranteed.

Which materially relevant risks are not adequately captured by the synthetic risk and reward indicator?

• Market risk: the risk of loss for a sub-fund resulting from fluctuation in the market value of positions in its portfolio attributable to changes in market variables, such as general economic conditions, interest rates, foreign exchange rates, or the creditworthiness of the issuer of a financial instrument. The value of a particular investment may go down as well as up in response to changes in market variables. Although it is intended that each sub-fund will be diversified with a view to reducing market risk, the investments of a sub-fund will remain subject to fluctuations in market variables and the risks inherent in investing in financial markets.

• Counterparty risk: Counterparty risk refers to the risk of loss for a sub-fund resulting from the fact that the counterparty to a transaction entered into by the sub-fund may default on its contractual obligations. There can be no assurance that an issuer or counterparty will not be subject to credit or other difficulties leading to a default on its contractual obligations and the loss of all or part of the amounts due to the sub-fund.

• Sustainability risk: It means an environmental, social or governance event or condition that, if it occurs, could cause an actual or a potential material negative impact on the value of the investment. This can ultimately impact on the risk-return of financial products.

• Other risks may also affect the sub-fund's performance.
